

Curly Hair Artistry Mastermind

This will be a supportive community of like minded people that will encourage, inspire and share knowledge, experience, and wisdom to help you achieve a vision, goal or idea.

We will meet two times a month as a group - on a zoom type platform - in person to learn what it takes to achieve a goal through stories, interviews and conversations.

Curly Hair Artistry (CHA) will provide a monthly saved video to view at your leisure that will address topics from planning, time management, personal development and entrepreneurial growth that can be used to inspire whatever you are pursuing. My goal is to add more than one video/month quickly to build a library of content - that you can view under a variety of topics - whenever you want as long as you are a member of this Mastermind.

I have learned many things from a variety of different people with many different backgrounds who are achieving unbelievable & achievable goals and when I finish our time together I wished I would have recorded these interviews for others to learn from.

Well, that is what is going to happen for this Mastermind community. As when I share what I have learned from others to my peers they wished they were in on these talks and also process this knowledge and wisdom TOGETHER and support each other in achieving their own goal, dream and vision - as you truly are most like the five people you surround yourself with and THIS IS THE CHANCE TO DO SO.

I am going to ask for a yearly commitment with this Mastermind. I have found that growth happens in three month increments with the first quarter is about learning, the second quarter is implementing what you learned, and the third quarter is about sharing your growth experiences, and finally the fourth quarter is almost like starting over as you take this new confidence and expand on it to plan out the next years goal, dream & vision.

The objective of our time together is about personal & professional expansion.

Expanding what you are gifted with, called to do and serve others in a way that is larger than this Mastermind and even what you are blessed to do currently.

For example: what I have been called to do with CHA is way bigger than what I or our team does as it has a global impact on serving others that goes beyond curly hair alone in contributing to individuals esteem, confidence and dignity that impacts their own community, business & families. What they do with THOSE TRAITS goes deeper than what curly hair is about.

This is what we are after.

We want this for you as well - to expand what you are doing & to impact what and who you are, as well as, your community & region...together.

This Mastermind is NOT for curiosity seekers that want to 'see what this is all about' and leave after a month or two.

This group is for those who feel stuck and yet they will do the work to make a difference. We want people that will share for example without fear of what their competition will do as you will learn there really is NO competition for what ANY of us do. People discover over time that there is more than enough to go around in any niche area.

We want overall wellbeing for your personal and professional life that impacts your faith, family, fitness, finances and business.

This is not a therapy group or a replacement for therapy. You are encouraged to share what you learned in any form of growth that can help another person from your perspective.

This is not a group for a victim mindset that supports you to remain a victim.

Entrepreneurial Development & Personal Growth is what this Mastermind will be about.

You can expect to be called out - as I expect to be called out - in areas or perspectives that you feel stuck or limited in and to then provide you with a system, method or ideas that support you in getting out of those areas - that will expand your personal & professional growth, and this takes time.

This is not about instant gratification - as anything that is meaningful takes patience, setting boundaries and expectations (for each of us) of how this will work out over time to help you build confidence, get over fear and to take action based not on confusion but with understanding and wisdom that reveals learning, knowledge and growth...this is what you will act on and take risks with as we support you along the journey.

We will add people to this Mastermind over time knowing that some people will drop off - realizing that this takes work, action and a commitment - and some will not have a desire to do what it takes to get the results they are after for whatever reason.

What is realistic is that you will have valleys and peaks to work through and this is for those that will realistically ebb and flow through these challenges and learn skills - in knowing that this is a process of growth - over time - not instant gratification - or even wanting to give up. Getting stuck is normal - staying stuck is not in our vocabulary.

You have the invitation to join this Mastermind at a monthly rate of $47 as long as you are a member - as the price will go up after this initial group forms and the next invitation goes out at a higher fee.

As a member you will have access to all content and video calls but when you stop that access goes away and this is standard for all membership and Mastermind groups.

We are not meeting on Facebook - this is all within an online course for holding your content that you will have access to Zoom or a private livestream platform with a link that will be provided for you. If you can not make the allotted time it will be recorded for you to view later as many times or as often as you want.

We will do our best to have meet up times that will match up with those that are globally connected with this Mastermind.

We also want to respect your time and be together no more than 60 minutes at a time for our Zoom conversations - also, interviews and other content added to be 15-30 minutes long - so that the content and time spent is focused on growth and not on each other's life drama or catching up personally (that can be done outside of our time together on your own time) - as this is about focused expansion and growth for you and all of us connected to this Mastermind.

We will start sending out the official invites January 2021 with a start up date on February 7.
